The California Stage Company.
The California Stage Company having sold out their Oregon routes to the Pioneer Stage Company ... [illegible] ... to the latter, the Sacramento Union of the 24th takes the matter as a ... for a review of Pacific staging, from which we copy the following:

In staging enterprise, California has the whip hand of the world. Posting over the vast and sterile steppes of Russia is reputed to be admirably managed, though the accommodations provided for the traveler await the improving genius of the Yankee. But for length of route, contempt of details, regularity of time, thoroughness of organization and marvelous dexterity of driving, where shall we look for a parallel to the staging system originated by California brains and developed by California energy and daring? The day is not distant when the smooth rail will supersede the rugged and often perilous wagon road, and the locomotive will outrun the swiftest steeds of the best ... [illegible] ... but the history of this staging interest cannot fail to excite the attention of even the late ... railway epoch, and the extraordinary feats of driving and many stirring incidents of these journeys over mountain and plain will live in traditions of travel, when the ... shall be turned over to the ... service of carrying Darby and Joan from one village to another, in regions where the iron horse fails to find sufficient fodder. The business which, with its present extensive range, ... of every tourist who visits the Pacific coast, began in an humble way with the advent of the Yankee in search of gold. It was a crowning advance on the mule and mustang. From 1849 until 1853, staging was carried on by individuals on short routes, and Sacramento energy ... the business. In December, 185[illegible] the ... lines running from Sacramento, Stockton and San Francisco were ... consolidated under the title of "The California Stage Company," having a capital stock of one million dollars. At the date of organization this company had seven hundred ... and their routes then all within the State had an aggregate extent of four hundred and fifty miles. They continued to extend their operations until the spring of the present year, when the aggregate length of their routes was eleven hundred miles, and they owned twelve hundred and fifty horses, with harness, coaches and other material in proportion. The routes reached four hundred miles into Oregon and early a hundred miles into Nevada. The proprietors were men of bold enterprise and business capacity; they were the first to advocate the great Overland Mail service. At a period when many were disposed to question whether a line of such magnitude running through a wild country, often infested by hostile savages, was practicable, James Birch, President of the California Stage Company, was at Washington, asking the Postal Department for a contract to carry the mail from St. Louis to Sacramento in twenty-five days, schedule time. The persistence of Birch in urging the project secured for it the serious consideration of the Postmaster General and resulted, early in 1857, in the establishment of a mail route between San Antonio (Texas) and San Diego (Cal.) and immediately afterward, in the establishment of the mail route from St. Louis to San Francisco.

In 1859-60, F. L. Stevens, then Vice President of the company, was at Washington urging upon the attention of the Department the importance of authorizing an overland daily mail from Sacramento to Portland. He was successful, and the people of Oregon, who had known no better accommodations in the mail service than weekly or tri-weekly stages running between a few of their largest towns for about six months in the year, were suddenly favored with daily communication through a large portion of their own State and with California. This service continued from September 15, 1860, until July last, when owing to some ... proposal to take the mail in wheelbarrows, or buggies, the stage company drew out. During this period, the service was performed on a route nearly seven hundred miles in extent, with surprising regularity, considering the nature of the country and the obstacles to be encountered on the mountains in the winter. The managers of the line seemed to feel a pride in their business, and when the difficulties of travel increased, they infused the spirit that triumphs over all obstacles into those in their employ and put the mail through. Failing to obtain a renewal of the contract on satisfactory terms the California Stage Company declined to continue the service except by temporary arrangement for the public accommodation. And now we are informed that a number of capitalists of San Francisco, headed by ... Mefane, have purchased the stock of the company and taken the contract for the Oregon route.

Last month the company sold their Virginia line to the Pioneer Stage Company, and since they have been closing out their various branch lines. They have no more than fifty miles of staging left of the eleven hundred miles over which their coaches ran last Spring. As soon as they can wind up their affairs they will probably ... among the things that were. But the magnitude of the staging interest which remains, and which the old company labored with such ... and energy to develop, claims for its founders and controlling spirits a grateful remembrance. The locomotive is gradually pushing the stage towards the boundary line of the State. The Central Pacific Railroad is ... the route of the Virginia line of coaches, and the Oregon railroad, which is to be pushed northward from Oroville, will probably, within a few years, drive the Northern stages to Oregon. But the California spirit which was strikingly displayed in organizing this system of travel will find new openings beyond our borders. Staging must become a still more extensive business in Nevada, notwithstanding the prospective completion of a trunk railway; and the system will be modeled after that which was brought to perfection by the California Stage Company.

THE CALLED SESSION.—Speaking of the called session of the Legislature the Jacksonville Sentinel says:

We know that it has been the desire of a great majority of the earnest and intelligent citizens of this State to have the Legislature convened at an early day. The Governor, by Proclamation, has but given legal expression to the wishes of a great majority of the citizens of Oregon.

About the only important question which will be presented for the consideration of the Legislature when convened will be the Amendment of the Constitution forever abolishing slavery in the United States. Under the present circumstances there are probably but a very few members who will wish to send their names to posterity in opposition to the abolition of slavery. The hated institution has cost this Government an immense amount of blood and treasure. It has been the rock upon which all our national hopes and aspirations were so nearly wrecked forever. It has ever been a source of bitterness and ... deep rooted and ... than this incongruous institution. It was and is out of harmony with the genius of our Government, the nature of our institutions and the immortal sentiments of the Declaration of Independence. It has gone down in a sea of fraternal blood, and woe be the man who ... resurrection.

That slavery is practically dead, is patent to the dullest comprehension. All that is needed is the enactment of a rule recognizing and enforcing universally and unimpairing that fact. And we are sure that so far as the loyal State of Oregon is concerned that fact will be recognized and enforced.

There are other things of a local nature, and of ... which we hope will receive the early and prompt attention of the Legislature when in session.

... let the Legislature meet and let them pass the Amendment forever abolishing slavery.

DISTINCTION.—Somebody defines distinction thus: Seeing your name spelled wrong in the newspapers. Judge Wyche of Washington Territory is fast acquiring distinction. The newspapers are spelling his name, Wiltse, Wiche, Wyche, Wyth. —[illegible] Advertiser.

NARROW GAUGE.—The managers of the New York Central Railroad have made an arrangement by which there will soon be a narrow gauge from New York to St. Louis, so that freight can be sent through without transfer in about one half the time it now takes.

Freedmen's Schools
Through the politeness of Alexander McNair, of this city, we have been furnished with copies of the Report of the Superintendent of Public Education to the Louisiana Assembly, for 1864, and also the Report of the Board of Education for Freedmen, Department of the Gulf, for 1864. These reports contain much interesting matter showing the difficulties to be overcome in the incipiency of the work of educating colored children—the means employed—the prejudices of the planters—the raids of the rebel soldiers to break up schools—the inhuman treatment of the female teachers—and the final success over all the many obstacles. This system, which is now in successful operation, was inaugurated by Major General Banks.

In April, 1862, when Commodore Farragut and Gen. Butler took military possession of New Orleans, there was no such a thing as a public school in the Crescent City for colored children—and no such school had ever existed. Children of free colored people, who were in good circumstances—of French, Spanish and American extraction—were generally sent North to be educated, though in few cases, where the complexion was fair, they were admitted to white schools, or taught in private of their own. Such schools were under the ban of the law, but were tolerated though the wealth, light skin, and respectability of their parents—and who, by slaveholding and business interests, were allied to whites rather than blacks. For the poor, free or bond, there were no schools. To teach the people to read and write the law fixed a penalty of not more than twenty years in the penitentiary, or death, at the discretion of the court. In the face of such a penalty, however, a few blacks learned to read and write. Occasionally slaves were secretly taught—where the interest of the master was to be greatly advanced. A Mrs. Brice, in 1858, attempted to keep a school for free blacks, but the popular outcry forced her to close it in 1861. The gateposts in front of her home were covered at night by placards, threatening death to nigger teachers." When forced to suspend for the second time, this brave and persevering lady would go out of dark nights and teach children at their homes. But when Gen. Butler "opened his hotel" in New Orleans, Mrs. Brice re-opened her public school, and she is now one of the principals under the board of education.

The first public schools for freedmen were established in 1863. In February, 1864, Gen. Banks, commanding the Department of the Gulf, issued a "labor order," through which the laborer, though a slave, was permitted to choose his employer. The governing power was thus transferred from the planter to the Provost Marshal. Protection was thus offered the colored man, and instruction promised his children. The Board of Education for Freedmen was established, and empowered to build school houses, hire teachers, &c. Departments were defined, embracing Algiers, Gretna, Orleans and Jefferson parishes, and in spite of a state of war, the fierce opposition from prejudice and passion, and ... obstacles and disabilities, at the close of the first nine months in 1864 the Board sustained in successful operation 95 schools, with 162 teachers, and 9,571 pupils, besides 2,000 receiving instruction in night and Sunday schools. The census, in the spring of 1864, shows 15,840 colored children between the ages of 5 and 20 years; and during the last quarter there were over 11,000 colored children attending these schools.

This report details many of the difficulties encountered by the ... teachers in the country parishes, where the planters' hostility could be made with ... impunity. Suitable school buildings were refused and temporary sheds, affording less comfort than a Yankee pig pen, were erected. Teachers were forced to board themselves, the white residents from fear of hostility, refusing to accommodate a "nigger ... ." The freedmen rendered all the assistance possible, giving from their scant store of provisions, and ... guard at night against the enemy, whether a rebel, a guerrilla, or a pro-slavery professed Unionist skulking behind the oath. This class often showed their "magnanimity" by letting their dogs loose at the scholars—breaking open school houses—destroying furniture, defacing books, committing nuisances, making the houses untenable—and hurling stones through the windows. In one instance a whole school, the teachers included, was captured by a rebel raiding party. They were recaptured by our troops, and the school reopened. The teachers are ... Southern ladies, and in many instances manifest the greatest enthusiasm and perseverance. The Board, in giving preference to Southern teachers, say: "They understand the negro—they have a competent knowledge of the people—their Southern origin and education fit them to combat the prejudices of their former friends and associates against negro education. A few colored teachers have also been employed. The report closes by saying "in nine months we have succeeded, against the grave obstacles incident to the beginning of so great an enterprise, in gathering under instruction half of the colored juvenile population of the State." We think the reader will confess his surprise at the great success of an undertaking surrounded by so many obstacles.—Marysville Appeal.

NO DEAD-HEADS.—One of the cemeteries in which the people of Detroit bury their dead, is situated a short distance from the city, with which it is connected by a plank road. Midway, there is a toll gate. Like most other toll-barred roads, funerals are allowed to pass free.

The well known Dr. B. was returning from calling on a patient, and stopped at the gate to pay his toll. Says the Doctor to the gate-keeper:

"You ought to pass doctors free of toll."

"Ah! no, Doctor," says the keeper, "you send too many 'dead heads' through here."

The learned physician quietly paid his toll, and jogged along.

District of Oregon—ss

WHEREAS, an information has been filed in the District Court of the United States for the District of Oregon, on the 13th day of October, A. D. 1865, by J. N. Dolph, Esq., District Attorney, on behalf of the United States against "Five pieces of Dress Silk," alleging in substance that said goods were on or about the 16th day of May A. D. 1865, brought and imported from the foreign territory of British Columbia, under the dominion of Her Britannic Majesty, into the United States by the overland route from Victoria in said foreign territory to the port of Portland in said District, without a manifest of such merchandise being delivered to the Collector of Customs or his Deputy at Port Angeles, which office was nearest to the boundary line of such foreign territory, and to said overland route, or to any Collector or Deputy Collector of Customs, and praying process against said goods or merchandise, and that the same be declared forfeited to the United States of America.

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the Warrant under the Seal of said Court to me directed and delivered, I do hereby give public notice to all persons claiming said goods or merchandise, or in any manner interested therein, that they be and appear before the said District Court to be held in the city of Portland on Monday, the 6th day of November, A. OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

The Marsh Lands

The permanent trade and prosperity of every city and town is intimately connected with the resources of the country in its immediate vicinity, and especially is this true in new States like Oregon where mining and commerce are equally important to its development. The question is sometimes asked by those who pretending to visit Oregon and to judge of its resources don't go away from the rivers, "Where is the country near Portland to sustain it?" We are aware that the dense forests which used to surround our town, offered no flattering prospect to such an inquirer. We know too that it is no mere garden or meadow, or field or little plain that can make a town, but we can inform any who wish to know that our city has in its immediate vicinity agricultural resources not surpassed we believe, in any country. We refer to the marsh lands in Washington County west of this city and all within a circuit of three to ten miles from here. The old settlers here know well the "old beaver dams" on the road to Hillsboro and the neglect to improve those lands has been often remarked. We are happy to state that this season a scheme has been set on foot and nearly executed, whereby from five hundred to a thousand acres of those rich lands will soon be changed from impassable swamps to gardens and meadows. The experiment of draining has been tried and by a single ditch, several hundred acres of that swamp have been rendered fit for immediate cultivation. The productiveness of these lands has been tested heretofore upon a small scale and the crops of hay and vegetables have been immense. It is well remembered how but a few years ago the teamsters in Portland paid twenty and twenty five dollars a ton for California hay and wild oats and fed their horses almost exclusively on feed brought from California. That day has passed forever. It is a moderate estimate, to expect within one or two seasons to receive into our market from the lands referred to above, not less than five hundred tons of the best quality of hay, besides an increased supply of every variety of the richest vegetables.

We are informed that a like improvement is contemplated of the swamps between Hillsboro and Forest Grove. It is encouraging as well to the commercial interests as to the people at large to find capital and labor tending towards such resources and methods of agriculture. We have no doubt, that the best lands of Oregon remain as yet in the condition in which the "old beaver dams" have laid till this year. Farmers! is there not a mine in every acre of your swamps?

The Special Session

The Democracy and the fault finders have delivered themselves of a great deal of bile and billingsgate (though perhaps in a private way) at the calling of a special session of the Legislative Assembly. All we have to say now is, let them rail on. The passage of the amendment to the constitution by our State this winter will never be a source of regret. We shall have done our part to close up a bitter controversy and remove a blighting curse, but our main object in these remarks is to call attention to the following letter, received by Governor Gibbs, which speaks for itself:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
Washington, Sept. 23d, 1865.

To his Excellency, ADDISON C. GIBBS, Governor of Oregon, Portland, Oregon:

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 14th ultimo, inquiring how many States have adopted the proposed amendment to the Constitution abolishing slavery in the United States, and stating your purpose to call an extra session of the Legislature of the State of Oregon, should it be necessary prior to its regular session, to accomplish the object.

In reply, I have to inform you that up to the present time this Department has been officially advised of the ratification of the proposed amendment by the Legislatures of seventeen States, to-wit: Rhode Island, Illinois, Michigan, Massachusetts, Ohio, Missouri, Maine, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Nevada, Minnesota, Kansas, New York, Connecticut, Louisiana, Arkansas and Tennessee. It has not been officially advised of the adoption of said amendment by the Legislature of any other State.

I am very respectfully,
your obedient servant,
WILLIAM H. SEWARD.

PLATFORMS.—It is not our prerogative to dictate articles of faith, or prescribe to any, a course of political action, especially in such times as the present. The events of the last five years have been essentially of a revolutionary character and opinions are as chaotic all over the country as society is in the Southern States. But being desirous of relieving human suffering to the extent of our ability, we courteously invite the attention of all those political gentlemen, who are shivering for an office, but who are yet uncertain as to what it is proper to believe in, to the following as the latest platform:

First. The ten commandments are good law.
Second. The man who don't keep the ten commandments, is only a second rate fellow.
Third. Andy Johnson is a first rate fellow.
Fourth. We propose to do as Andy Johnson does anyhow.
Fifth. A hoss isn't near as good as a nigger.
Sixth. A white man is better than any thorough bred hoss.
Seventh. If a nigger can get enough to eat, and can enjoy himself, he ought to be satisfied.
Eighth. This is a big country.
Ninth. It ought to be bigger.
Tenth. We don't favor negro sufferings. We are the true patriots—the others ain't.

SUDDEN DEATHS.—Rev. Mr. Garrish, living about fifteen miles south of Forest Grove died very suddenly on last Friday morning from apoplexy or heart disease. At the time he was taken he was turning his cows out of the barn yard, and was heard to give a loud shriek, when a hired man near by went to his assistance and found him insensible. He was conveyed to the house and everything done to restore him to consciousness but to no purpose. Mr. Garrish was an old time resident of Oregon, aged about 60 years. Mr. E. S. Copenhaver, also living near Forest Grove and for a number of years a resident of this State also died suddenly of paralysis on Sunday evening, at his home. Mr. C. has been greatly afflicted and about one year ago lost his eye sight entirely. Both of these gentlemen were much respected by those who knew them, and leave a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn their death.

MONTANA MATTERS.—Dwight & Bacon's Express arrived at Lewiston from Helena and the Blackfoot country, during the last week. These gentlemen give encouraging accounts of the country, and report lively times there. They met fully three thousand animals loaded for Helena and Blackfoot.

The Vigilantes of Montana are still working to clear their country of the desperadoes that infest it, and the supposition is that many of the worst characters who have escaped unhung are making their way to the "west side." A notorious highwayman known as Buffalo Bill and his accomplices in crime are reported on the road between Lewiston and Oro Fino.

The Post of a late date has an account of the hanging of John Morgan, John Jackson alias Jones and Jack Howard in the vicinity of Helena and Diamond City, and since the issue of the Post two others were "strung up." Considerable freighting was being done from Milk river to the mines regardless of the depredations of the Indians and road agents.

FIRE AT FOREST GROVE.—On last Sunday evening the house of T. M. Hines at Forest Grove was destroyed by fire. The fire originated in the roof and was supposed to have caught from a defective chimney. The building was occupied by a tenant.

DATES TO OCTOBER 28.

Proclamation—National Thanksgiving

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The Post's special says: The President has not yet made a decision in the case of Wirz.

Senator Cragin had an interview with the President yesterday, when the President reiterated the sentiments expressed in the Seward letter.

The following proclamation has been issued by the President:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God during the year which is now coming to an end to relieve our beloved land from the fearful ravages of civil war and to permit us to secure the blessings of peace, unity and harmony with a great enlargement of civil liberty, and whereas our Heavenly Father has also during the year graciously averted from us the calamities of a foreign war, pestilence and famine, while our granaries are full of the fruits of an abundant season, and whereas righteousness exalteth a nation while sin is a reproach to any people, now therefore

I, Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, do hereby recommend to the people thereof that they do set apart and observe the first Thursday of December next as a day of National Thanksgiving to the Creator of the universe for these deliverances and blessings. I do further recommend that on that occasion the whole people make confession of our national sins against His infinite goodness and with one heart and one mind implore Divine guidance in ways of national virtue and holiness.

In testimony whereof I hereunto set my hand and cause the seal of the United States to be attached. Done in the city of Washington this 28th day of October A. D. 1865 and of the independence of the United States the ninetieth.

(Signed) ANDREW JOHNSON,
Prest of U. S.

WM. H. SEWARD, Sec'y of State.

The Fenian Congress

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The Senate of the Fenian Congress reassembled at the Astor House. The chair was occupied by Priest Roberts. The session was strictly private and the attendance confined to members. It is known that the principal business transacted related to the issue of bonds of the future Republic, which will be ready next week. Several members said that they would subscribe for the bonds. The Senate intend to establish their headquarters permanently in a larger hall in this city in a few days.

Alarm in Canada.

TORONTO, C. W., Oct. 27.—The Leader to-day has an article advising the Government to take the arms from the vaults lest the Fenians should get them, and to establish patrols on the frontiers and inaugurate the passport system. A fearful state of alarm exists here.

The jury in the Saunders kidnapping case are still locked up.

A raid upon the Canadian Banks by the Fenians is expected.

California News

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—The eastern line is still down. The case of the People vs. Thomas Maguire, charged with threatening to demolish the bones of Vestvali the magnificent, has been postponed until next Tuesday, when the complainant will testify before the police court as to the threats alleged to have been made by Maguire and the circumstances which called them forth.

Charles Gounblom and Henry Solomon who were arrested for extorting ten dollars from a cigar dealer named Westerald under the pretence that they were United States revenue officers, have both been held to answer before the county court to the charge of obtaining money under false pretences, and their bail was fixed at $500 each.

John Fells was yesterday committed to Stockton as insane. He attempted to commit suicide yesterday by cutting his throat with a razor. His insanity arose from having lost $200 a few weeks since, which has so preyed upon his mind as to impair his intellect. He is a native of Delaware, aged 50 years.

An order from head quarters has been issued directing the commanding officer at the Presidio to keep Capt. Hill, now on trial for murder, in close confinement under guard, and holding the commanding officer of guard responsible for his safe keeping.

Brevet Brigadier General W. A. French has been appointed commander of Fort Point, to relieve Col. A. L. Anderson. Gen. French is also appointed Inspector of Artillery for forts and batteries in the harbor of San Francisco.

The bodies of J. S. Benton and Charles H. Belden, the former late Purser of the steamship Brother Jonathan, and the latter Assistant Paymaster, both of whom were lost on that ill fated vessel, arrived here last night by the Del Norte.

Charles Jansen, one of the parties injured by the explosion of the Yosemite, has commenced suit in the 15th District Court against the California Steam Navigation Company to recover $21,025 damages for injuries received and for moneys expended for surgical and medical treatment on account of the explosion of the Yosemite. Plaintiff was thrown into the air and fell through the deck on to the boiler, whereby his right leg was broken and he was severely scalded. He has expended $1,025 in consequence, and demands $20,000 additional damages.

Samuel Bivens and Mary his wife, recovered a verdict in the 12th District Court yesterday against the Omnibus Railroad Company for $100 for the forcible expulsion of Mary Bivens from defendant's cars on Stockton street in January last. The plaintiffs were colored people. The testimony shows that the conductor offered her the privilege of standing on the platform, but not being satisfied with those accommodations and insisting on riding inside, she was ejected from the car.

The mining share market presents a little more tone and there is a slight rally in some descriptions from the lowest point of depression; still speculation seems to be in abeyance and the aggregate of sales is comparatively small.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29.—The Colorado carries a large number of passengers and 1,100,000 in treasure.

B. Nisbit was arrested last night for threats against life while in the Blue Wing Saloon. He got in a dispute, which ended in his drawing a Derringer and threatened to shoot George E. Kohler.

About dark last night an attempt was made to burn the California Soda Works Factory on Stevenson street. A pile of rags and shavings saturated with turpentine was discovered in the building, but for the timely discovery a large fire would probably have occurred.

The semi annual election of the Typographical Union was held yesterday. The following officers were elected: President, Fred K. Knutz; First Vice President, George F. Russell; Second Vice President, A. C. Hester; Recording Secretary, F. O. Williams; Finance Secretary, G. P. Brown; Treasurer, Daniel Dunnell; Sergeant at Arms, J. W. Carpenter; Directors, Thos. J. Dwinell, Rev. F. Charlton and Rev. M. C. Briggs ... delivered a brief discourse appropriate to the occasion. During the performance of the service within the church the building was densely crowded with listeners while hundreds ... could not have gained admittance remained in the vicinity awaiting the formation of the line of the procession. At the close of the exercises in the church the coffins were again brought out and placed in the hearses provided for them. The military companies, fire companies, societies, carriages, etc. ... which had thronged the streets in the vicinity of the church were soon set in motion by General Howell and aids, and the procession was formed and moved to the last resting place of the dead. After the remains of General Wright and ... his wife were deposited in the grave three volleys were fired over the sacred spot by the battalion under Colonel Hamilton.

From North Idaho.—The Lewiston [illegible] ... the people of Lewiston ... "preparatory to its being moved into the sister Territory of Montana. The editor in his valedictory says:

"If the people of North Idaho have local interests to advocate, in which all are interested, and we dare say they have—there is certainly an element of discord among them which is fearfully disadvantageous. Personal strife and petty jealousies have grown up among our citizens and to our opinion the best interests of the country are lost sight of. Viewing these facts as we do, and seeing no prospect of an immediate change of this unpleasant state of affairs, we feel justified in seeking a new location for our paper."

The Radiator says persons have gone to the mountains to "take up" a silver lead about one hundred miles from Lewiston in the direction of Florence. This lead has been known a long time, but never was thought much of until the discoveries in the Florence Silver Mining District began to gain notoriety. The rock is the same, in appearance, as that of the Florence section.

Mr. F. Dalton has received the appointment of District Attorney, vice Pomeroy, resigned.

Curious Effect of the Quake.—Tall buildings are lowered and low buildings raised—in the public estimation.

The Golden Era claims the perpetration of the above joak.

To Heads of Families.—Are your little ones subject to croup? If so, don't fail to use Newell's Pulmonary Syrup. A few doses given in time may save the life of a darling child. Do not fail to have it on hand, if you would be safe and free from anxiety.

Fragrant Sozodont hardens and invigorates the gums, purifies and perfumes the breath, cleanses, purifies, beautifies and preserves the teeth from youth to old age.

WHAT ARE FOSSILS?—Fossils are the actual remains of animals and vegetables, or other certain indications of their existence, found on examining the rocks of which the earth's crust is made up. The time has been in the history of science when the presence of the shells of marine animals or the teeth or bones of quadrupeds or fishes in the rocks has been actually doubted, despised or explained away. When, indeed, the number of recorded examples of such fragments was low, and places where they were found distant, this mode of escaping from a great difficulty in natural history was thought fair and reasonable; but now that almost every limestone, and a large proportion of all sandstones, clays and gravels are found to multiply evidences on the subject, when the wider scope is daily discovering fresh proof of the former existence of life in every direction, and when no country is without large and remarkable collection of strange and unfamiliar forms of animals obtained, not from the species actually living now in the country, but from the soil and rock beneath man's feet, it would be folly to waste time in proving the interest and importance of a subject so brought home to the senses. We now regard it as an admitted fact that almost every rock contains some fossil, and it remains only to consider the conditions in which these occur, the kind of animals or vegetables to which they belong, the nature of the group which the species found in certain localities or certain rocks may afford, and the circumstances under which the organic beings in question have lived, died, and been preserved for future investigation.

DEBT OF THE UNITED STATES.—From a very long and well detailed account of the United States Treasury operations, we have room only to give the recapitulation and the sum total of the debt. By this it will be seen at once that there is gold enough at this moment in the Treasury to pay the interest of another year.

What a rebuke to enemies of the National Currency. One hundred and sixteen millions dollars in the Treasury! more wealth than the Bank of England ever had, take the largest amounts, that rarely ever exceeds ten or twelve millions sterling, or fifty or sixty millions dollars. Let revilers of our Government and the Currency look to it. The National Bank and the National Currency will prevail.

THE FRENCH EXPOSITION OF 1867.—Parties who wish to exhibit at the French Exposition, to commence in 1867, should take immediate steps to secure space therefor. N. M. Beckwith, a resident of Paris, has been appointed by the American Minister special commissioner of the United States, and applications should be addressed to him in the care of the United States Legation. The Exposition is to be opened on the 1st of April, 1867, and to close on the 31st of October, of the same year. All applications for admission of articles to be exhibited must be presented before the 31st day of October, 1865, prior to which time, also, a plan or chart of the uses to which the space will be put by each nationality respectively must be made by foreign commissioners on a prescribed scale and sent to the Imperial Commissioner. Detailed plans of articles, and their distribution in the space assigned them, must be furnished on the same scale by our own commissioner, as well as materials for the official catalogue, before the 31st day of January, 1866. This will doubtless be the most extensive exposition ever held.

MASONIC.—The several Masonic bodies of California have recently been in session in San Francisco. Lawrence C. Owen is the Grand Lecturer of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons. There are now one hundred and forty three charter Lodges on the roll of the Grand Lodge, with a membership of 6,600. One hundred and thirty four Lodges were represented at the recent communication, which continued five days. Of Royal Arch Masons thirty-two chapters were represented in the Grand Chapter. There are thirty four Chapters under the jurisdiction of the Grand Chapter, with a membership of 1,250. The convocation continued two days. There are seven chartered Councils under the jurisdiction of the Grand Council of Royal and Select Masters, their membership being five hundred and on the roll of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar, there are seven chartered Commanderies with a membership of three hundred and fifty.

REVIVAL OF THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.—We are informed that a movement is on foot to revive the project for a railroad by the southern route through Arizona, and that active steps have already been taken both at the East and on this coast toward commencing the work. It is proposed to make Guaymas the Pacific terminus and Memphis the eastern terminus of the road. There is no doubt that the Southern is by far the most feasible as regards ease of construction and expense, and were it not for the fact that it passes through a wide extent of desert country that must ever remain uninhabitable, it would be in every respect the best route. Both routes will be ultimately needed and both probably will be built in time, but what is specially wanted at the present time is a through route, to establish a more speedy connection between the Pacific and the Atlantic States, and it is estimated that the Southern route can be built at far less expense and in one half the time that it will take to complete the route now in progress.—Bulletin.

THE LINCOLN MONUMENT.—Up to September 20th, the assets of the National Lincoln Monument Association, including interest, were $63,000. The meeting of the Association was held at Springfield (Ill.), and a very beautiful and apparently appropriate design for the monument was submitted by the Governor from Larkin G. Mead, the well known Vermont sculptor. It is a Corinthian column, supporting a colossal figure of Lincoln, and resting on a pedestal. Four groups representing the different branches of the military service, occupy as many corners of the pedestal. At the base of the pedestal, and looking outward from the column, are the figures of four boys upon pedestals, representing a sailor boy, a drummer boy, bugle boy and flag boy. The design was universally admired by its members, but no action was taken regarding it.

THE APPETITE OF A FISH.—The labrum is a fish, mentioned by Pliny, and rather vaguely described as a kind of ravenous fish, seeing that every fish is by nature utterly and entirely ravenous. The elegant trout, who flies in the wildest terror if you but show the tip of your nose, will eat nearly his weight of bleak and dace of a hot, still, June evening. A pike has been known to rush at a fish well nigh the size of himself, and even to dash at a mule's nose. We have known a fishing frog lose its life in an insane attempt to swallow a wooden scoop, the proprietor of which objected to the proceeding. It is but a short time since we read an account of a fish which had swallowed among other matters, two broken bottles, a quart pot, a sheep's head, a triangular piece of earthenware, and a lobster, while in its liver the spine of of a skate was comfortably imbedded!

ELEVATIONS.—Captain Mullan in his report gives the elevation of the road at the South Pass of the Rocky Mountains at 7,450 feet above the level of the sea. The plateau there at [illegible] elevation of 6,000 feet, and the country to the west an elevation of [illegible] feet. The highest point on the road in the summit line at Mullan's Pass has an elevation of 6,000 feet, being lower than the South Pass by 1,450 feet. This point is on the ridge between Blackfoot City and Helena, and may be taken as the elevation of the Blackfoot country.

EARTHQUAKE ART.—Caricaturing the earthquake is all the go, just at present in San Francisco. A cotemporary says:

The crowd stop and look at the pictures, but we don't see many of them laugh. To a nervous man these representations of Montgomery street caving in on both sides suggests a strangely ghastly fun. Owners of real estate lean a little that way too. A steamship explosion may be the next subject for the pencil of our enterprising artists. Very appropriately put into the hands of a friend just as the gangway plank is hauled in.

THE BIG CITY OVER THE BAY!—The Oakland News rejoices:—Oakland is growing vastly popular since the big earthquake. Property is in demand and looking up. There is security here. Who knows but the city is yet to become the great commercial metropolis of the Pacific? One more such shake up as San Francisco had last Saturday and the probability of such an event can hardly be considered doubtful. Nature designed this side of the bay for a great city. The Railroad termini must all converge here, the country back of us is arable and productive; there is plenty of room for expansion landward and seaward; what, therefore, is to prevent?

IRRIGATION OF DRY LANDS IN THE STATE.—Our congressman from the Northern District of this State, Hon. John Bidwell, proposes to introduce a bill in Congress for the reclamation of the dry lands of the State. In a letter to the [illegible] written before his departure for Washington, he said:

"There are millions of acres of dry and apparently sterile land to be found all over the Pacific slope. Is it always to remain in the present condition? There exists no necessity that it should do so. The land possesses in abundance all the elements of fertility. There is [illegible] and but one remedy—irrigation. [illegible] It will require the united effort of all who have a property interest in the State [illegible] an enterprise [illegible] worthy of the [illegible] in view. Once accomplished, lands that are now absolutely worthless would become most valuable. The same encouragement should in any just event be given to irrigation, water on land that is worthless without it, as to take water from land that is useless with it. The dry as well as the swamp lands require reclamation [illegible] as much as the other. Why, then, should not the Government be willing to donate the dry lands of the State as well as the swamp lands?"

The San Francisco Alta comments on the subject as follows:

It is strictly true that there are millions of acres in California now lying unclaimed, unproductive, unoccupied and worthless simply because of lack of irrigation, which might be supplied. If our State were as well provided with ditches as was ancient Judea, Spain under the Arabs, or India at the present day, we should have thousands of acres of land fit for gardens as we actually have. More dry land than swamp needs reclamation in California. The waters of winter and the snows of the Sierras, by careful management, might be made to yield as much treasure as the auriferous sands of the Sacramento basin. Other nations have reclaimed tracts as large and as dry as the San Joaquin and Tulare valleys, and why should we not do as much?

A QUESTION OF TWO.—The Copperheads have the audacity to claim that some of the Union Generals are "Democrats," meaning that they are Copperheads [illegible]. If that is true they certainly have a queer way of showing it. Grant, Sherman, Rosecrans and Sheridan are named as "Democrats." If they are "Democrats" what are Lee, Breckinridge, Johnston and Bragg? There were only two parties during the war—Democratic Generals and Union Generals. The Copperheads claim some of the Union Generals as Democrats because they are opposed to negro suffrage. General Cox announced himself opposed to negro suffrage, and he has defeated a "Democrat" for Governor of Ohio. Is Cox a Democrat? If every Union man who is opposed to negro suffrage is a Democrat, the Democratic party is very large and the Copperhead party very small. We know of only one Copperhead General—General McClellan. He is sorry the rebels did not kill him.

NEW ENTERPRISE.—A short distance out of town, on the Montgomery road, we found a company of twenty three colored men with a lot of teams [illegible]

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts, gives strength to the digestive organs, brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.
